

OUR AUTHORS

Agárdi Izabella — Ph.D, a historian. Her research interests are history, gender studies, contemporary historiography and literary theory. She focuses on the study of analyzing intersections of personal and public narratives, practices of periodization and modes of narrating 20th-century history in Central Europe. She also analyzes how individuals understand historical transformations — including localized forms of understanding and narrating Central-European-type state socialism in a larger context of changes and continuities.

Dinuš Peter — Ph.D, independent researcher in the Institute of Political Sciences of the Slovak Academy of Sciences. His field of research is concentrated on «reconciliation with the past», the critical theory of society with an emphasis on Marxist position of the society development. Among the most significant works of recent times: «Reconciliation with the past» (2010), «Politics without a mask. Political discourse in Slovakia after 1989» (2015).

Dinušová Dominika — Ph.D, Assistant Professor of the Social Science Department of the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava. Her fields of research include the revolutionary critical thought in history of philosophy, the concept of social change in past and present political discourses and the philosophy and ethics in law enforcement.

Habarta Andrzej — Candidate of Economic Sciences, Graduate of the Department of International economic relations of MGIMO University. Associate professor of the Department of World economy at MGIMO University, leading researcher of Center for Visegrad studies at the Institute of Europe of RAS. Specialist in the field of Polish-Russian bilateral cooperation: economic and investment, cross-border, interregional. Editor-in-chief of «Cuadernos Iberoamericanos» journal.

Samorukov Maxim — Deputy editor of Carnegie.ru. Before joining Carnegie in 2015, Maxim worked for the independent news website Slon.ru for five years. He started as a correspondent and then became an editor and international columnist, covering topics including Russian foreign policy, Central Eastern Europe and its relations with Russia, Balkans, and the challenges of transition to democracy.

Shishelina Lyubov — Doctor of Historical Sciences, Head of the Department of Central and Eastern European studies and the Center for Visegrad studies at the Institute of Europe of RAS. Leading Russian specialist in Hungary and Visegrad region. Since 1984 works at the Academy of Sciences, (in IE RAS from 2006). In 2004–2014 — Professor of the Chair of Social Sciences at Kodolányi János University (Hungary); since 2007 — Professor of the Department of World politics and international relations at the Russian State University of Humanities; foreign member of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences (2015). In 1994 she founded the permanent international scientific conference «Russia and Central Europe in new geopolitical realities». She is the author of six books, an electronic textbook on modern geopolitics and around 300 articles. Editor-in-chief of 15 monographs on relations between Russia and Central Europe. Editor-in-chief of «Visegrad Europe. Central European Journal». She is expert of the Russian Academy of Sciences and Russian Council on International Affairs. In 2010 she was awarded the Knight's Cross of the Hungarian State Order.

Stańczyk Zbigniew — Doctor of Economics, Senior Lecturer at the Department of Macroeconomics, Krakow University of Economics. Graduated from the Academy of Economics and the Jagiellonian University. Research interests: developing economies and macroeconomic policy; multidisciplinary research based on economics.

Stykalin Alexander — Candidate of Historical Sciences, leading researcher of the Department of the History of Slavic Peoples during the World Wars, the Institute of Slavic Studies (since 1988). He studies the problems of the modern history of Hungary, the history of international relations in Central and South-Eastern Europe in the post-war period, the policy of the USSR in relation to the European socialist countries. Explores the key problems of Soviet-Hungarian and Soviet-Romanian relations. The sphere of scientific interests also includes cultural ties of the 19th–20th centuries. between the peoples of Russia and Hungary, Russia and Romania. Member of the Editorial Board, Resp. secretary of the RAS Journal „Slavic Studies“. Executive editor of the journal „Historical Expertise“ (publishing house „Nestor-History“).

Vedernikov Mikhail — Candidate of Historical Sciences, Graduate of the Department of History, Lomonosov Moscow State University. Since 2016 senior researcher of the Department of Central and Eastern European studies and Center for Visegrad studies at the Institute of Europe of RAS. Russian specialist in Czech and Slovak studies.

Wajda-Lichy Marta — Doctor of Economics, Associate Professor of the Department of Macroeconomics at Krakow University of Economics. Graduate of the Faculty of Economics and International Relations of the KUE. She lectures on macroeconomics, economics of European integration, monetary integration. Since 2012, she is a member of the Polish Economic Society; In 2006 — 2011 she was heading the project „Strategies of the Euro Area Enlargement“, implemented within the framework of the EU educational Jean Monnet program, and in 2009 — 2016 she was a lecturer of postgraduate studies „Strategies for the functioning of the Eurozone“, carried out under the auspices of the National Bank of Poland.