

OUR AUTHORS

Golyshev Mikhail — Post-graduate student, Institute of Europe of the Russian Academy of Sciences.

Gorizontov Leonid — Doctor of Historical Sciences, professor of the National Research University “Higher School of Economics”, head of the Scientific and Educational Center of Polonistics (Faculty of Humanities, Higher School of Economics). Specialist in the history of Russia, Poland, Ukraine and Belarus (XIX–XXI centuries), historical regional studies, the history of Slavic studies. Author of about 200 works. Member of the Commission of Historians of Russia and Poland. In 2013 he was awarded the Order of the Republic of Poland Silver Cross of Merit.

Gyozalyan Ilona — Deputy Head of International Research Practice, VCIOM.

Habarta Andrzej — Graduate of the Department of international economic relations of MGIMO University, Candidate of economic Sciences. Associate Professor of the Department of world economy at MGIMO University, leading researcher of the Visegrad center at the RAS’ Institute of Europe. Specialist in the field of Polish-Russian bilateral cooperation: economic and investment, cross-border, interregional. Co-author of textbooks: “Poland: politics, economy, society”, “Economy of the Visegrad group”, “World economy and international economic relations”, “Prospects of economic globalization”.

Kamenchuk Olga — Doctor of Psychology, Head of International Research Practice at VCIOM. Professor, Institute for Political Analysis, Northwestern University, USA.

Mikhalev Oleg — Candidate of Historical Sciences, Associate Professor. He teaches at the Department of International Relations and World Politics, Faculty of International Relations, Voronezh State University. In 2006–2007 interned at the Institute of History of the University. A. Mickiewicz (Poznan, Poland). His research interests include problems of modern domestic and foreign policy of Poland, the European Union in international relations, and international relations in the post-Soviet space.

Samorukov Maxim — Deputy editor of Carnegie.ru. Before joining Carnegie in 2015, Samorukov worked for the independent news website Slon.ru for five years. He started as a correspondent and then became an editor and international columnist, covering topics including Russian foreign policy, Central Eastern Europe and its relations with Russia, Balkans, and the challenges of transition to democracy.

Sergeev Egor — PhD in Economics, Associate Professor at the Department of World Economy of MGIMO-University, Senior Research Fellow at Center of European Studies, Institute for International studies of MGIMO-University, Associate Professor at the Department of Regional Problems in World Politics, Faculty of World Politics, Lomonosov Moscow State University. His main research field and scientific interests include financial integration in the European Union, regional differentiation in the EU, socio-economic development of Benelux and Visegrád countries. He is the author of more than 40 scientific and educational works and co-author of various monographs (such as «Industrial Policy», «World Economy and International Economic Relations», «International Economic Relations: realities, challenges, prospects» and others).